

PAPAMOA FOOTBALL CLUB - PRIVACY POLICY

Policy

The club will apply the principles of the Privacy Act 1993 to all personal information collected in all the activities it undertakes.

Purpose

The club respects the privacy of its members and is committed to safeguarding the personal information it collects. The principles of the Privacy Act 1993 will therefore be reflected in the activities of the club.

Process

Personal information collected as part of the club's activities should be stored appropriately and not disclosed for purposes other than for the purpose originally collected.

Procedures

- Personal information collected by the club will be for a necessary and lawful purpose connected with the activities of PFC.
- Personal information will be collected only with the knowledge and informed consent of the individual concerned. For player registration purposes, team coaches or managers may ask players for this information and then pass it onto the club, WaiBOP Football Federation & New Zealand Football.
- The club will not disclose personal information to anyone other than the individual concerned unless: disclosure is for the purpose the information was obtained; the source of information is publicly available; disclosure is authorised by the individual concerned; disclosure is necessary to prevent or lessen serious threat to public health or individuals' life or health.
- Personal information will be stored to meet the requirements of the Privacy Act 1993.

All personal information that the club collects about members will be recorded, used, and protected by the club in accordance with applicable data protection legislation and this privacy policy. The club may supplement the information that members provide with other information that the club obtains from their dealings with members or which the club receives from other organisations, for example, sponsors and partners.

In broad terms, the club will use members' data for the following purposes:

- to administer and provide products and services members request or have expressed an interest in.
- to enable the club to administer any competitions or other offers/promotions which members enter into.
- to communicate with members in the event that any products or services members have requested are unavailable or to communicate details around the product.
- for record keeping purposes.
- to carry out market research so that the club can improve the products and services it offers.
- to track members' activity on our digital platforms.
- to improve members' experience on the club digital platforms.
- to tailor any communications that the club may send members.
